

dRworks announces
2010 Spring Schedule

SAVE THESE DATES!

1

Friday, January 15

Our second

What I Know For Sure
potluck gathering

We are inviting area activists to share our collective wisdom in a roundtable discussion; this quarter we offer the topic of What I Know For Sure about who we are and our relationship to religion/spirituality.

Our guests include the fabulous

Chantelle Fisher-Borne, Tammerie Day, Zulayka Santiago
among others.

Be prepared to share your sageness too.

Bring a dish to share. Drinks will be provided.

At the home of Tema Okun, 204 Rigsbee Ave., #201, downtown Durham.

2

Workshop Series

Holding Contradictions:
The Personal Work of Social Justice

Join us for two Saturday and three Thursday sessions – the series starts on Saturday, January 23 from 9 am-4 pm meets Thursday, January 28, February 11, February 25 from 6-9 pm and ends on Saturday, March 6 from 9 am-4 pm
in Durham, North Carolina

This series is for people who have completed the Dismantling Racism workshop (or equivalent) and want to be with others who are grappling with the issues of oppression, privilege and how they affect our personal and institutional lives, move beyond the limits of binary thinking and identity politics, learn how to love who we are knowing we must change, and be more effective in our social justice work.

Contact us for fee and additional information or download flyer on our website at www.dismantlingracism.org

3

Friday, April 16

Our third

What I Know For Sure
potluck gathering

Details TBA

4

Coming in May 2010

dismantling Racism workshop for People of Color and dismantling Racism workshop for White People

Details TBA

For more information on any of these events or workshops, contact

Vivette Jeffries-Logan at vivej@embarqmail.com

Michelle Johnson at michelle.socialworker@gmail.com

Tema Okun at temaokun@earthlink.net or call 919.949.0609.

Check out our website at www.dismantlingracism.org.